How can I avoid being spied by Russian GLONASS system of my iPhone 4S?

2019/10/08

Hello Wayne! According to the official data specifications, in addition to the GPS navigation iPhone 4S has total GLONASS support indeed. GLONASS is the Russian Global Navigation System that uses Russian satellites to operate and to track objects on the surface of the planet. You can read more about it in this article where you can find more deep and specified information about it. As you have probably guessed, the GLONASS system can track you down in the same way as GPS does, but it uses slightly other frequencies to operate. Thus in order to fully secure yourself from those tracking systems you need to use iPhone 4S tracking jammer that would block the signals of both GPS and GLONASS satellite systems and leave your location unknown to them.
