How can I prevent Bluetooth Bulb from working?

2019/08/11

Hi Tina! Bluetooth Bulb is a prototype indeed. It is not an ordinary light bulb but RGB one thus you can change its color. All you need is to have a smartphone with Bluetooth 4.0 connection that is paired with Bluetooth Bulb and lets you control all its features: switch the bulb on and off, change its brightness, color, and set a timer. Moreover, you can pair few devices with one Bluetooth Bulb or few of those bulbs with one wireless device, which gives you and your family members more control options. As long as this is only a prototype and there are no mass production have been started yet, Bluetooth Bulb will be available later. In fact, its creators are willing to demonstrate their device at IFA 2012 in Berlin between 3rd and 5th September, so if there will be an investor or distributor, they can get funds to start a mass production and let Bluetooth Bulb get into our homes. But if you want to block its work and seize control over this device, you need to use Bluetooth Bulb jammer that will prevent any wireless signals of paired gadgets from getting to the bulb.
